SEWERS AND ZONES

ZONING COMMITTEE CONSIDERS BOTH SUBJECTS AT MEETING FRIDAY

The Zoning Committee appointed by the City Council held a rather informal meeting yesterday afternoon in the Council chamber. There were present Mrs. Bartlett, Mr. Watson, Ezra Parker, L. T. Rowley and City Engineer Hill. Part of the time was taken up in discussing the sewer question from two angles, one that of Glendale providing her own system and the other that of joining Los Angeles in providing a great outfall sewer to the ocean. Manager Watson said that positive figures on both plans would soon be available and then the matter could be taken up and acted on intelligently.

On the zoning matter Mrs. Bartlett expressed the conviction that it ought to be disposed of at the earliest possible moment and Mr. Watson heartily agreed, saying that when the zones are once established the time of the city trustees need not be taken up in considering protests against the location of certain institutions in proscribed territory, as the zoning ordinance would settle all that beforehand. A map had been prepared by the city engineer showing proposed industrial districts in pink, commercial districts in green and residential in white. The city manager stated that the work of the committee would be greatly simplified if the proposed highway extensions could be settled upon first.

A meeting was set for next Wednesday afternoon when it is expected that decisive action will be taken.

Welcome New Members

Over two hundred gathered to welcome the new members at the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The evening was in charge of the S-Z division of the membership, with A. W. Van Loon as chairman, and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, Mrs. H. C. Tupper, Mrs. H. H. Schumaker, V. E. Skiles, Miss Nellie Warner and Miss Mary Simpson as vice-chairmen. After a social half hour a delightful program was given consisting of whistling solos by Miss Marjorie Nye, readings by Miss Mildred McKee, Scotch dialect songs and stories by James Algie and vocal solos by Mrs. Natalie L. Hall. The program opened with a prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, and a brief welcome to the new members by A. W. Van Loon. The program was followed by games and at the close, dainty refreshments were served. The good time ended promptly at ten o'clock.

Glendale, 14; Covina, 0

Glendale won the second game of the football league contest yesterday when Covina was defeated 14 to 0. The Glendale team rushed matters from the start and most of the play was in their opponents' territory. A very large crowd was present, Glen- dale High taking over quite a big delegation.

ROOT-ST. CLAIR

YOUNG LOS ANGELES BUSINESS MAN WEDS GLENDALE YOUNG LADY

There was a very quiet wedding last evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry St. Clair, 1250 South Maryland avenue, when their fifth daughter, Miss Leda, was joined in marriage to N. N. Root, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Root of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Newell of Los Angeles, an uncle of the groom. The only guests present were the parents and brother of the groom and the members of the bride's family living in Glendale. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and all present had a very happy time.

The young couple are away on a short wedding trip and on their return will locate in Los Angeles, where the groom is engaged in business.

Back to Glendale

B. F. Cook, who sold his property at 334 West Harvard a few months ago and moved to Los Angeles, will move back to Glendale early in November, occupying one of the apartments in the bungalow court at 609 North Brand, now nearing completion. He has leased the north room in the new Goodno building now being constructed just south of the Glendale Theatre and will open a restaurant and confectionery there in about December 1st.

PASTOR WELCOMED

(Communicated)

One of the largest and most representative gatherings that ever assembled in the West Glendale Methodist Episcopal church was that which welcomed Rev. W. W. Cookman and family last evening upon their return to the church for a third year's work. The reception was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, whose energetic president, Mrs. Harold Myers, ably assisted by Mrs. Ella Bradley, Mrs. Gilbert Schmidt, Mrs. George Moore and others, had transformed the church parlors into a veritable bower of flowers. Chrysanthemums were the prevailing flowers, all arranged in the most artistic manner.

George H. Moore, attorney-at-law and chairman of the board of trustees, ably presided. J. H. Garsney, a prominent layman, formerly of Kansas City, but now a resident of Glendale, led in prayer, after which Harold L. Adams, in a graceful, easy manner, made the speech of welcome, assuring the pastor of the pleasure and gratification on the part of the congregation in his return and pledging him their heartiest co-operation and support in the work of the church for another year. Rev. Cookman very feelingly responded, and dwelt especially upon the great opportunities for work that presented themselves in that section of Glendale, and how much could be accomplished where an enthusiastic, cooperative spirit existed. Prof. Alfred Cookman, in the absence of the superintendent of the Sunday School, John Camphouse, who was unavoidably detained, made a short but strong speech for that important institution of the church. Other delightful features of the program were a piano solo by Miss Lelia Whitehead, a violin selection by Miss Genevieve Mulligan, a recitation by little Mary Louise Moore, and a vocal solo, "The Home in the West," by Master Harry William Perry, Jr., and a selection by the choir of the church.

Refreshments of chocolate and cake were served, and an hour of delightful fellowship followed in which the several new members and friends of the church were welcomed and made to feel at home in true Southern California fashion.

MEN AS HOSTS

LADIES OF GLEN EYRIE CHAPTER, O. E. S., ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

About one hundred ladies, members of Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S., were the guests of the gentlemen of that organization at a Hallowe'en party given in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple last evening. The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Sallie C. Braden, being in attendance at the State Meeting in San Francisco, Miss Cora Hickman, First Worthy Matron of Glen Eyrie, filled the chair.

After the regular business session the men of Glen Eyrie, in Hallowe'en costume, marched into the chapter room and invited the ladies to attend the Hallowe'en party at which they were to preside as hosts. The decorations were black and yellow streamers and festoons from which were hung colored stars to represent the various star points. These stars were decorated with figures suggestive of Hallowe'en. Cornstalks, pumpkins and black-eyed Susans aided in lending this spirit to the occasion. The guests upon entering the banquet room were presented with black and yellow caps. Cards were enjoyed by sixty ladies and gentlemen, 500 being the game played. The first prize for the ladies was won by Mrs. A. M. Beaman and the consolation prize by Miss Alice Frank. Mr. Calkins won the gentlemen's first prize and Mr. Emery the consolation prize. True Masonic hospitality was shown by the hosts who later served a delicious Hallowe'en lunch consisting of coffee, chocolate, doughnuts, apples and individual pumpkin pies. The evening was closed by the men's quartette singing "Good-night, Ladies." The ladies responded by singing "Good-night, Brothers." The able committee of twenty, with Milton Grumblin as chairman, is to be complimented on the thoroughness with which all details were looked after.

Announcement was made of the Masonic picnic to be given at Brookside Park this afternoon. All Masonic organizations in San Fernando Valley will participate. Machines are leaving the Masonic Temple at 2 p.m.

TENANT SHOOTS MINISTER

PASTOR OF MEMORIAL METHODIST CHURCH MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR IN CHICAGO APARTMENT HOUSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Frederick Sextro, manager of a coal company here, admitted having shot and killed Rev. Frederick Ruff, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church in the exclusive north-side district early today. The shooting occurred at 7 o'clock this morning in one of several large apartment houses owned by Ruff.

Sextro told the police he mistook Ruff for a burglar when they met in the apartment hallway.

The police learned that Sextro had previously quarreled with Ruff over a large increase in rents. Ruff was one of a number of apartment owners recently called before the Board of Aldermen to explain large rent raises.

According to Sextro's statement to police the shooting occurred when he was attracted to the door of his apartments by someone who was trying to enter. He called "Who is there?" several times, when he saw a dark form in the hallway, then fired.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE POSTPONED

LLOYD GEORGE'S INVITATION TO MINERS TO PARTICIPATE IN CONFERENCE CAUSE OF POSTPONEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The nation-wide sympathetic strike of railroad workers scheduled to begin Sunday at midnight was postponed today after miners' executives asked railroad workers' executives to postpone their action. Suspension of the sympathetic strike will continue during negotiations between miners and the government, it was said.

The reasons assigned for the postponement was Lloyd George's invitation to miners to participate in a conference to attempt settlement of the coal strike. The postponement was considered a victory for J. H. Thomas, secretary of the railroad men, who opposed calling a sympathetic strike.

Officials were optimistic today as predictions were made that renewal of negotiations would bring quick adjustment of the coal strike.

THREATEN PROHIBITION OFFICER

LETTER TO ARTHUR KRIEDE DEMANDS THAT HE DISCONTINUE "BOOZE" INVESTIGATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Arthur O. Kriete, chief deputy prohibition enforcement officer for Southern California, has received a letter threatening his life, it became known today.

The letter said, "We got Handley when he tried to interfere. You will go the same way." The letter demanded that Kriete discontinue his investigation into activities of an alleged whiskey ring.

Lauren A. Handley, former California prohibition enforcement officer, was recently killed at Lodi in an automobile accident. His death, alleged to have occurred under mysterious circumstances, is being investigated by federal authorities in San Francisco.

"MYSTERY WOMAN" TO TESTIFY

MRS. RICHARD C. PEETE TO START TESTIMONY BEFORE GRAND JURY NEXT WEEK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Richard C. Peete, "mystery woman" in the Denton murder case, will testify before the county grand jury the latter part of next week, according to definite announcement made at the district attorney's office today. Delay in calling Mrs. Peete was attributed to investigations being made in Texas and Louisiana of Mrs. Peete's past life.

District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine today assumed charge of the Denton case following his arrival from New York with Everett Hutchings, alleged "king of swindlers."

MAC SWINEY'S DEATH EXPECTED TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Annie and Mary MacSwiney, sisters of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, whose death was expected momentarily today, began a hunger strike this morning when they were excluded from Brixton prison by officials who feared they might interfere with the forcible feeding of MacSwiney.

The sisters said they would starve unless allowed to see Terence. Both were hysterical.

REALTY BOARD

PLANS PERFECTED AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING TO PROVIDE TEMPORARY HOUSING

The Glendale Realty Board is starting its first year with a rush. At the regular monthly dinner held at the White Inn Friday evening plans were adopted for immediate action on the housing problem.

Cameron D. Thom, vice-president of the board, tendered the use of his large holdings in and around Glendale for the purpose of providing temporary camping places. The beautiful apricot orchard on Doran St. has been accepted by the president of the Board, Charles B. Guthrie, as the most desirable location for a temporary camp. At the same time plans were made for a semi-permanent tent city located on Kenwood near Broadway.

The temporary camp will take care of home seekers for a period of not to exceed one week. The semi-permanent camp will house those who have bought homes and are waiting for possession. Mr. Thom, who has been exceedingly generous in this matter, stipulated in his offer of the camp ground that applications must come through the Glendale Realty Board.

A number of communications from eastern and northern home seekers were read, having been turned over to the Board by the Chamber of Commerce.

Three Autos in Mixup

Three Los Angeles autoists were in a mixup at 614 South Central avenue yesterday. E. C. Lanning of 666 South Bonnie Brae avenue had his car parked there and Helmer Nelson of 1701 South Burlington avenue drove out of Riverdale Drive and struck the car of Mrs. A. J. Pope, 1469 Oak Grove, throwing it against Lanning's machine, breaking the front bumper and left front fender. Neither of the other two cars were damaged.

Building New Home

Tom Bayliss, contractor, is building a nice home on Laclede avenue, Atwater district, for W. Newberry. It is of five rooms and the cost will be around $4000. Mr. Bayliss' home is in Seattle now, but it was formerly in Glendale and he spends his winters here. He expects to again make his permanent home in this city in the near future.

TIME TO VOTE

PERSONS EMPLOYED ARE ALLOWED TWO HOURS FOR THIS PURPOSE

Many Glendale voters who work in Los Angeles and elsewhere outside of the city have been losing their votes because they thought it was impossible to get away from their tasks for this purpose during the day. But the law especially sets forth that every voter shall have two hours in which to go to the polls, with no deduction of pay. In order that there be no mistake or misapprehension on this matter we publish the statute regarding this, in full. In an election of such vital importance to the nation as that on Nov. 2d, no one should fail to vote.

Any person entitled to vote at a general election held within this state shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged, or employed, for the period of two consecutive hours, between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls; and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made on account of such absence from his usual salary or wages.

Broadway P.-T. A.

There was a splendid attendance at the second meeting of the year of the Broadway P.-T. A., held in the beautiful new school building Thursday. A very interesting and instructive address on some of the amendments to be voted on at the November election was made by Prof. Richardson D. White. The association is starting the year's work with great zest and the program gives promise of great things to be accomplished. The parents are responding loyally to the association's call for a 100 percent membership, says Mrs. V. G. Godfrey, Publicity Chairman.

KILLS SELF

MRS. LOUISE WESTLAKE SHOOTS HERSELF THROUGH THE HEART

Mrs. Louise Westlake, of 215 West Garfield avenue shot herself through the heart last evening about 7 o'clock and the body is now at the L. G. Scoville Undertaking Company's parlors, where the funeral will be held Monday. The police were summoned by Dr. Mabry, who had been called to the house by H. S. Hunting, 525 1/2 South Main St., Los Angeles, and he found when he examined the body that she had been dead about 30 minutes. The weapon, a Colt's revolver, .25 caliber, was lying by the body when Dr. Mabry arrived. Mr. Hunting, who said he was to marry Mrs. Westlake next week, was summoned by her at 5:30 by phone, he says, she phoning that she intended ending her life. He hurried out to Glendale but found her lying dead when he arrived. Her brother was summoned by Mr. Hunting and when he arrived a letter written him by Mrs. Westlake was given him. In this she told of her intention to end all at once. Deceased was 36 years old and had been a widow for 10 years.

He will play a group of seven of the most popular etudes, followed by a group which will include Fantasie Impromptu in C sharp, Nocturne No. 2, Berceuse, Valse in C sharp minor, Prelude No. 6 and Valse in E minor. The third group will be a Ballade in G minor and a Fantasie in F. Medlar, of the Sons of Veterans. The reception, which immediately followed the regular meeting of the Tent, was held in the beautifully decorated banquet room of Patriotic Hall. Those attending from Glendale were Mrs. Gertrude Griffin, Mrs. Dora Hall, Mrs. Winona Crawford, Mrs. Queen Danner, Miss Audrey Hall and Comrade Robert Taylor.

POST AND CORPS

MONTHLY MEETING AND DINNER OCCASION OF GREAT ENJOYMENT

At the regular monthly meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps yesterday there was a very large attendance, 150 partaking of the dinner served. Mrs. Pearl Gillette, chairman of the committee providing the refreshments, was highly complimented for her work. After the dinner was disposed of the regular business meeting was held and then a delightful program enjoyed. The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung, with Mrs. Peckham at the piano. Comrade Robert Taylor sang the verses and then all joined in the chorus. Comrade Gorman spoke very entertainingly of his travels, chiefly throughout California, after leaving Glendale a few years ago; Comrade Goodwin gave a new version of "The G. A. R. Button;" "Tramp, Tramp the Boys Are Marching" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" were then sung, and Mr. Howells gave a very entertaining account of his trip to the National Encampment and his visits to G. A. R. posts in Iowa, all of which sent greetings to comrades in Southern California. The two Toms, as they were designated, T. M. Barrett and Thomas Hull, then talked, the latter narrating some of his army experiences, and Comrade Sanford recited an original poem, "The Folly of Wisdom." Mrs. Eustace B. Moore gave some humorous readings and Rev. Norton told some very pleasing anecdotes. The singing of "America" closed the meeting, which was pronounced one of the best ever held.

DR. CORPE OF "HEAVEN, L. A." MAKES FOUR MONTHS' TOUR OF COUNTRY

Dr. S. L. Corpe of the Los Angeles County Hospital surgical staff has just completed a tour of inspection through many hospitals all over the country, performing special surgical operations and gaining new ideas for the Los Angeles County Hospital.

Dr. Corpe made the trip of ten thousand miles in a Ford Touring Car and completed the whole tour in less than four months. His brother, George Corpe, and his father, Ira E. Corpe, aged 72, accompanied him. All three slept in the Ford most of the time, converting the front and back seats of the touring car into one large bed.

They took the Santa Fe route on the way east, stopping at the Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest, and the ruins of the cliff dwellers, but nevertheless reached Chicago in sixteen days. From Chicago they continued to Washington, D. C., spending a few days at the Walter Reed Hospital near that city; they then toured up the coast as far north as Portland, Maine, stopping at all the large cities on their way. From Portland they motored into Canada, then back to the United States by way of Detroit and were there shown through the Ford plant. After leaving Detroit, they headed back to Los Angeles over the shortest possible route, and over the Tioga Pass.

Dr. Corpe is a man of means and could have afforded any car he wished, but in his younger days he had taken many trips in a Ford Touring Car, crossing the desert into Mexico, going up into mountainous roads above the Yosemite Valley, and, therefore, knew exactly what a Ford could do. The party had no delay whatsoever besides minor motor troubles the whole ten thousand miles and averaged 19 and 20 miles to the gallon of gas.

Dr. Corpe was much impressed with the larger hospitals of the east, but says that after all the Los Angeles County Hospital ranks third largest in the country, as well as being one of the best equipped. He was especially impressed with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, and the great army hospitals at Washington, D. C., where a great many of the wounded boys from overseas are cared for and brought back to health. All through their trip they carried a pennant on their car with "From Heaven, L. A." and told every one who asked where they came from, "Why, don't you know, Los Angeles, California, the Heaven and Haven of America!"

"Stop, Look, Listen"

The adoption of railroad crossing signs bearing the above advice has doubtless saved many lives. Signs informing the passersby upon a road that the railroad crossed the road at that point were common before, but the number of casualties continued to increase until the railroad magnates were led to offer a reward for some form of sign that would warn the passersby against taking chances. The above phrase was offered among others and was at once adopted as succinct, forcible and likely to admonish caution.

Since the day of the automobile dawned the admonition seems to have lost its force. Otherwise, why so many automobile wrecks at railroad crossings? Some of them have wiped out whole families or carried grief into several of them. Street cars with their passengers used to be frequent victims of the rushing trains, until the traction companies adopted the practice of having the motorman stop the car until the conductor has gone ahead to look for a possible approaching train and signal safety if none was dangerously near.

But the man in charge of an automobile seems to feel as though that sign were not meant for him—even though he has women and children in his car. Motorists will dash over a railroad crossing with but a slight glance up and down the line of tracks, or none at all. No wonder so many automobiles are crashed into at railroad crossings and lives extinguished every day. The man at the wheel of the automobile has a fearful responsibility upon him if he has friends in the car with him, yet the amount of recklessness the modern means of family transportation has drawn out or made evident in humanity is something fearful.

There is a remedy. Let the license of every car owner or chauffeur who neglects to stop, look and listen upon approaching a dangerous crossing of any kind be revoked. Let those who sell or hire automobiles take up this matter; they might save many an automobile, as well as he who is accustomed to accepting the courtesy of those who own these machines, by refusing to accompany any such friend the second time if he noticed such recklessness on any out-of-town trip on a previous occasion. —Jackson (Miss.) News, August 14, 1920.

Many Want Road Maps

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—California's popularity with motoring tourists is increasing, it is indicated by statistics of the state automobile association.

D. E. Watkins, secretary-manager, announced he has furnished 166,250 automobileists with road maps, in addition to maps and road information to 4000 transcontinental touring parties, in the past year, while 6614 road signs were placed by the engineering department along a distance of 62,400 miles.

The profiteer who whines because he is losing money in getting back to normal is not being showered with sympathy.

TENTING TONIGHT

MANY CALIFORNIA CITIES CONSIDERING QUESTION OF MUNICIPAL CAMP GROUNDS

Whether visiting motorists will be "tenting tonight on the old camp ground" is a question which is perplexing many Southern California cities at the present time.

An unusual influx of out-of-state motor parties, scores of them clamoring for a place to "camp out" near the business section of the towns through which they pass, has brought up again the question of municipal camp grounds, according to officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Many towns and cities in the southern part of the state have already provided free camp sites for their motoring visitors—but many have not, points out the Auto Club, and now these are deciding to whip themselves into line.

All the way from Imperial county and San Diego northward to San Luis Obispo the question of providing adequate camping facilities for motorists who have read in the east that California climate would permit out-door living in the winter has become a live issue in the last week.

Bakersfield is now considering the camp ground question, and so also is Whittier, according to the club touring bureau. In each city the Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to see that motorists have some place to park their cars and camp besides in rubbish heaps at the outskirts.

Cities which have already provided facilities for the motorists who wish to take advantage of Southern California's wonderful out-doors are listed by the Auto Club as follows: Alhambra, Anaheim, Buena Park, Calipatria, Corona, Escondido, Huntington Beach, Pasadena, Pomona, Fullerton, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Newport Beach, Imperial, Redlands, Riverside, Redondo Beach, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Dimas, San Gabriel, San Pedro, Santa Barbara, Seal Beach, South Pasadena, Sunland, Sunset Beach.

Making the Roads Safe

Massachusetts appears to have a means of punishing automobile drivers who transgress on safety. In five months the licenses of 1116 drivers have been suspended because of infractions of the laws—driving while intoxicated, speeding or engaging in other offenses calculated to increase the perils of the highways. In addition the warning is issued that a second offense will make permanent the prohibition of driving a car. Such a course should be effective to restrict the actions of those who menace the safety of the roads.

If reckless driving imperiled only those who engage in it the accidents that occur could be borne with less regret, but drunken driver hurling his car along at high speed endangers all the other traffic on the road. The menace is not greatly lessened if the driver is sober, but going at an excessive speed. Suspension of the license should be more effective than the imposition of a fine. Many persons do not mind paying a small fine and will go out and immediately repeat the performance for which they were fined. Being faced with the fear of being deprived perpetually of the privilege of driving a car should have the effect of making those inclined to "pull 'er wide open" think twice before taking the chance.

It is imperative that the roads and streets be made safe for those who drive safely or enter them afoot and whatever steps are necessary to reach that end must be taken. Wisconsin has sent to prison for 18 months a drunken driver. The problem is recognized all over the land as one requiring solution. The constantly recurring accidents impress its seriousness. Those who defy traffic laws are inviting retribution for the perils produced by intoxicated drivers and excessive speed cannot be tolerated. The cost is too great.

A system of highway maintenance similar to that employed by the big railroads in inspecting and caring for their properties is urged by one student of road problems.

The policy of the past, he suggests, has been to build a good road and then let it go to pieces for lack of care. To prevent this he would have a highway maintenance department in every state or county, which should keep inspectors out all the time, going over roads so that any slight crack or break might be reported and repaired promptly before it assumes serious proportions.

Every yard of railway right of way is thus inspected daily, with consequent prevention of accidents and long, expensive repairs. A highway might not need daily inspection, but should have it with sufficient frequency to insure its being kept in good condition. The money saved by the process would probably more than pay for its cost.

ANTI-VIVISECTION

FOR OPPOSING AMEND-
MENT 7

Why do I say you should vote "No" on No. 7? Because the health and welfare of the people of California depend upon an abundant supply of wholesome food, and if this anti-vivisection measure is adopted the means by which farmers now stop the spread of cholera in hogs and chickens, Texas fever in cattle and other diseases cannot be controlled. In hog cholera alone there has been a saving of over $40,000,000 per annum through animal experimentation, besides saving the lives of countless thousands of children from diphtheria. Animal experimentation is the very foundation of sanitation and by it yellow fever and malaria were conquered and the Panama Canal made possible.

Anaesthetics are used in animal operations and anaesthesia itself is the result of such experimentation, but this anti-vivisection initiative would prohibit it and make all operations on man and animals cruelly painful and very hazardous. This No. 7 would finally result in quarantine being placed against the State of California, restricting the movement of stock, fruit and other products.

A. M. DUNCAN, M. D.

Jim—Why did France make the little finger of the "Goddess of Liberty" just 11 inches long?

Jim—I can't imagine.

Jim—Well, if they made it 12 inches long it would be a foot.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tennell of Pasadena and E. O. Church of Oakland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, 246 North Central avenue, on a motor trip to Riverside yesterday.

Born, this morning, October 23, 1920, at the Glendale Sanitarium, to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Chambers, of the California apartments, a little daughter. Mr. Chambers is the proprietor of Jesse's Transportation Service.

Through some mixup in plans none of the judicial candidates announced for the meeting at the High School auditorium last night showed up so the evening was spent in a general discussion of the amendments to be voted on at the November election, many from the audience joining in, and the afternoon was voted a splendid success.

Architect Alfred F. Priest is preparing plans for a two-story addition to and the remodeling of a brick store building at Oxnard. The addition will be 65x75. Mr. Priest is also preparing plans for a 2-story, 10-room residence in the same city and for a 7-room Colonial bungalow in Eagle Rock for Mrs. Frank P. Richardson.

Frank H. Roeder, wife and child moved yesterday into the residence property recently purchased at 620 Orange Grove avenue. Mr. Roeder is employed by the Pacific Mineral & Chemical Company, located in South Glendale. Burnett McIrvine and wife, who owned the place, bought by Roeder, have moved into the new home at 712 Orange Grove, to which they are building a substantial addition.

The following new residences are nearly ready for occupancy, as indicated by orders for the installation of electric light meters: H. C. Kennedy, 517 E. Lomita Ave.; Frank Ziskind and A. T. O'Connell, Opechee Way; W. F. Kaiser, 1732 East Harvard; L. J. Meeker, 1732 Pioneer Drive; S. L. Smith, 134 Olive. The Kaisers have been living in a tent and their garage while the house was building.

W. A. Tanner and wife and V. M. Hollister and wife of North Louise were guests Thursday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Garson, on Westlake avenue, Los Angeles, who celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary that day, entertaining those four friends and Mrs. Garson's sister, Mrs. Wm. Bartosh of Kansas City, Mo. An elaborate dinner was served and then a theatre party was given the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Garson formerly lived in Glendale on North Isabel.

There were 73 auto accidents reported by the police of Los Angeles Thursday. In these one person was killed and 14 hurt. One police judge, after asserting that he would continue to assess heavy fines against violators of the traffic law, sentenced a speeder caught making 57 miles an hour on a city street to five days in jail. It is such travesties as these that give speed maniacs a contempt for law, it has been said many times. A few justices in Los Angeles like Judge Cox of Santa Ana would have a wholesome effect.

Some persons pride themselves on getting about anything they want and still keeping out of jail.

Motto of the profiteer: Never let a fellow go until tomorrow if you can do him today.

A DIFFERENCE!

When you buy a rug or carpet you see the value under your very eyes and are satisfied that the benefit (the merchandise), is greater than the sacrifice (the money). But this is a lump-sum sacrifice and the benefit gets thinner and thinner as time goes on, from the wear and tear of the children's feet.

When you buy a long endowment, however, the sacrifice is comparatively slight because it is on the installment plan and not only is the full protection benefit immediate in the contingency of your death, but the endowment benefit grows with the years—the reverse of deterioration—and finally reaches maturity.

You need both. Which the worst?

THIS DIVISION OF TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Colin Cable, 505 South Columbus avenue, Friday afternoon, with the curator, Mrs. Chas. Marlenee, in the chair. After a short business session, at which time the fancy work booth for the Club bazaar was discussed, the program, which was an all-American one, was delightfully arranged by Mrs. Cable. Laura Stevenson Spang gave the following vocal selections and was compelled to respond numerous times to the requests of her delighted hearers: "My Own True Love" (Ashford); "The Hills O'Skye" (Harris); "The Sandman's Song" (Hagood); "My Laddie" (Thayre); "A Birthday" (Woodman). Mrs. Leon Hagood furnished the piano and accompaniments. Later, Margot Buxton, grand-daughter of Mrs. Chas. Turk, danced most entrancingly in costume the Jester's Dance, Chinese Dance, and the Dance of Joy. A brilliant future is assured this little miss. Mrs. L. N. Hagood played delightfully an original piano selection.

Delicious refreshments of ice-cream, cake and punch were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Leyroy Bosserman, Mrs. Charles Marlenee, Mrs. L. N. Hagood and Mrs. H. L. Baker. Sixty people were present and the afternoon was voted a splendid success.

Harry Woolsey Dead

C. H. Woolsey, who, with his wife, lived for several years on Riverdale Drive and later at 424 Milford, died very suddenly this morning at 5:25, of heart failure, at 1058 South Manhattan Place, Los Angeles. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter. The body is now at the Jewel City Undertaking Company parlors. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Nobody would be so mean as to object to every dog having his day but it is the noise he makes at night that is annoying.

Some men demonstrate that they are fools by speeding up when the sign says go slow.

(Continued From Page One) merce. It was unanimously decided to open an information bureau in a prominent location where a competent stenographer will be kept on duty to answer correspondence and care for outside inquiries as well as local.

Mrs. M. L. Tight was appointed chairman of a committee to draft an illustrated booklet setting forth the beauties of Glendale to be used in nation-wide distribution.

Some very earnest discussion was held in reference to an attempt on the part of certain non-members to injure the Board by belittling its efforts but the unanimous opinion of those present was that Glendale is no longer a village and must now take on the duties of a real city and forget the petty disputes of the old days.

The slogan, "Do Something, Get Somewhere," indicates that the spirit of action prevails and the day of "waiting to see what is going to be done" has gone by.

Glendale's record of 393 per cent increase in 10 years is only a marker and the hustling members of the Board say, "Watch what happens in the next ten years."

The city will be asked to co-operate with the Board in the housing problem. As immediate action is necessary on all these vital questions another meeting has been called for next Friday evening at 7:30 for reports of committees. Charles B. Guthrie, the president, has outlined a busy program for the winter. At least one prominent speaker on subjects of interest to the realty men will be invited to address the Board each month. The first address will be on "Escrows" by a prominent title official of Los Angeles.

GLENDALE SEVENTH

ONLY SIX CALIFORNIA CITIES AHEAD OF HER IN SEPTEMBER PERMITS

A comparison of the building permits issued in the leading cities of the Pacific coast region in September shows that Glendale was seventh on the list of California's cities and eleventh in the list for the coast. Among the cities of much greater population that she surpassed are Pasadena, Fresno, Berkeley, Santa Barbara, San Jose, San Bernardino and Spokane, Wash. The six California cities that surpassed her building record in September were Los Angeles, San Francisco, Long Beach, Oakland, San Diego and Sacramento. But Glendale still holds the proud position of doing more building in proportion to her size than any other in the whole nation.

Los Angeles retained her position of second city in the United States in valuation of permits. New York led, as usual, with $15,882,749, a falling off of nearly $14,000,000 from the previous month. Los Angeles was next with $7,231,440, then Detroit with $6,766,065, Chicago $3,970,900, Washington $3,598,118, Cleveland $3,364,975, Philadelphia $2,686,995, Boston $2,047,385, San Francisco $1,996,612, then Milwaukee, Akron, Indianapolis, Hartford, Baltimore, Long Beach $1,231,250, Minneapolis, Atlanta, Dallas and Cincinnati. These 19 cities had permits totaling more than a million each.

The event was long foreseen. The premier went back to power with an overwhelming support, chiefly made up of Conservatives. The Liberals who nursed him from political infancy to adolescence literally read him out of the party. Yet Mr. George is not a Tory. It was always a matter of time when he would desert the Tory vessel, and for many months he has been hanging over the side hoping the Liberal ship would sail just close enough for him to make the jump. But the only jump open to the premier has been to fling himself into the sea; so he stuck.

The Irish program, right or wrong, of today is the program of the Tories, Against Carson, Bonar Law, Balfour, Curzon and Milner are arrayed Asquith, Viscount Morley and Lord Robert Cecil. Two of the last group, at least, are really great men.

It is curious that 34 years ago a far greater than George went down to defeat leading the Liberals over the same issue that the Liberals are now attacking in the hands of Mr. George's Conservatives. In that day Gladstone's career closed with a tremendous Tory revolt against the Irish measure; today it is the Liberals who would destroy Mr. George and the Tory government in the same way.

Premier Lloyd George is a younger and more agile man than was the septuagenarian Gladstone. But the issue is a hazardous one, and none the less, his day may be near.

HOME FROM NORTH

S. C. KINCH AND DAUGHTER RETURN FROM VISIT TO SPRAGUE, WASH.

S. C. Kinch and daughter, Miss Franc, of 328 North Brand, arrived at home yesterday from Sprague, Wash., where they have been since last April. Mr. Kinch owns a 1000-acre wheat ranch near Sprague, which is in the vicinity of Spokane, and his errand there was to put up some new buildings and repair others. He and Miss Franc returned sooner than they expected to and cannot get possession of their home until the lease expires, so they are living temporarily at the home of A. C. Schrader, 1224 Dorothy Drive, who came here from Sprague about two years ago.

Mr. Kinch says wheat did not turn out well this year. There had been four years of very light rains and this seriously affected the crops. The rains had begun, however, before they started back and he said indications were for a wet season. Wheat was selling at $2.10 a bushel when he left. He and his daughter were exceedingly glad to be back in beautiful Glendale again with its equable temperature. The summer in Washington was unusually hot, but the cold was beginning to be felt before they left.

The restaurant that sells a cup of coffee for 10 cents knows how to capitalize the city water.

It would be only like history repeating itself if some of the profiteers should be the philanthropists of the future.

The old-fashioned man who preached the doctrine that woman's place was in the home seems to have given up in disgust.

NEW CEMETERY

L. A. BURIAL PLACES CAN ACCOMMODATE NORMAL DEATH RATE FOR 100 YEARS

We have heard considerable agitation lately in reference to starting a new cemetery in the hills along the Ventura road a few miles from Universal City.

The promoters of the new cemetery had a hearing last Wednesday morning before the City Council of Los Angeles in application for a permit. The Council Chamber was filled with residents of San Fernando Valley who were there prepared to object to the establishment of this new cemetery, but the hearing was continued. The Council heard the promoters and their attorney argue the question for some hour and a half and then the hearing was postponed until 10:30 a. m. Thursday, October 28th.

The promoters of the new cemetery put forth, among other things, the argument that a new cemetery was a public and pressing necessity and that in view of the increasing population, San Fernando Valley would soon need a new cemetery. An official of Forest Lawn cemetery commenting upon this statement questions its truth. He says:

"It is true that the city of Los Angeles and its surrounding territory is increasing rapidly in population, and it is reasonable to presume that in ten years will at least have doubled its population, therefore the question that comes before us is 'Are the cemeteries already established equipped to take care of the death rate of the increased population?' Our investigation has been of necessity a hurried one, but even so we understand there are between fifteen and twenty cemeteries in Los Angeles and close vicinity. In all of these cemeteries there is still room to spare, although a few of them have very little ground left. The largest cemeteries we find are Inglewood, Forest Lawn and Hollywood. These cemeteries are really parks that have been built up at a great expense and are credits to the civic life of any community."

"Forest Lawn cemetery, at the mouth of our own San Fernando Valley, owns one hundred and thirty-five acres. Of this acreage only about ten has been used in burial, and Forest Lawn is twelve years old. We find that Inglewood owns two hundred and ninety-eight acres, of which about forty acres is partially occupied. We find that Hollywood has sixty acres and is about one-third occupied."

"In view of these facts, it would appear to us that even with increased population or even a greater population than that, the present cemeteries would accommodate a normal death rate of one and one-half percent for at least one hundred years more. If this is the case, the arguments before the City Council of Los Angeles were incorrect and founded upon a false premise. We believe the land in San Fernando Valley could be used to a greater economic advantage for the production of foods and the establishment of homes than it could be for the new cemetery that apparently is not needed."

Big Yield of Pearls

(By United Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 23.—Harry B. Johnston, 1216 East Madison street, was surrounding an order of half a dozen raw oysters in a Second Avenue restaurant here when his teeth struck something hard.

"Gosh, they're full of grit 'n everything," complained Johnston.

"Grit nothin'," said the waiter, who hailed from Baltimore. "Better see what you're chewing on."

Johnston found he'd been munching pearls. The half a dozen bivalves yielded eighteen of them, several large enough to be used as settings for rings.

To show his gratitude Johnston lent the pearls to the restaurant owner. The latter displayed them in his window with a sign saying, "These were found in oysters served by us."

Sales of oysters have jumped 200 per cent since the news spread, the restauranteur reported.

WHY THE AIR MAIL FLIERS WERE BURNED TO DEATH

The Post Office Department announces that it has discovered that the mail airplanes which caught fire and crashed, killing airmen and destroying mail, were defective. The gasoline feed system was wrong, the drainage system was wrong and the radiator was wrong.

But when this newspaper, beginning a year ago, called attention again and again to the sacrifice of life in the air mail service, Mr. Burleson could not see that anything was wrong—except this newspaper.

In a news bulletin issued by Mr. Burleson's office these confessions are now made:

"The investigation made by the Post Office Department as a result of recent accidents to J. L. monoplanes has shown that the fires which caused the loss of the machines and the death of the occupants were the result principally of a defective gasoline feed system.

"There was, also, no provision for ventilating the fuselage so that the leaking fuel could escape. It therefore collected beneath the engine and was ignited either by backfiring from the starved motor or by flames from the insufficiently protected exhaust manifold.

"It was found that the engine fan at a very high temperature owing to the fact that the heavy vibration caused leaks in the radiator which quickly reduced the water supply, causing preignition."

Then follows a list of recommendations made by "our experts" and "concurred in by experts of the Army Air Service, after they had made an examination of the machines."

But what were "our experts" doing when the machines were bought? What were they doing after the first crashes a year ago? How many deaths must occur before "our experts" are asked to look at an airplane?

The Postmaster-General declared when we suggested that he suspend his air mail service until there should be no such tragedies, that only "stupid partisanship" prompted the suggestion. Not until two more brave men were killed did he make a move!

But there are only five months more of Burlesonism.—New York Sun.

THE OBLIGATION TO VOTE

No matter what the affiliations of any citizen politically, or whether he is interested enough to take part in political discussions, he is not released from the obligations of citizenship, one of which is compliance with the orderly processes of government.

One of the processes of our government is that of selecting officials for the discharge of the business of the nation or state, and this is done in a great majority of cases by the exercise of the ballot. The voter who neglects to use the franchise declares by so doing that he is not interested in seeing that the best persons are chosen for public work.

It is true that many persons are not capable of making choice of the best men for official positions, for they may be blinded by partisan feeling, or they may have failed to have informed themselves as to the character and particular fitness of the persons who ask their votes. The voter who neglects his duty opens the way for control by elements of citizenship which are not of the highest character.

Men and women can hardly find excuse for not voting unless they are physically or mentally incapacitated for discharging this important duty of citizenship. They should not be willing to make the excuse—though it be unexpressed—that they do not have enough interest in the nation and state to use the privileges which have been given to them.

It was not expected that women in states where they are granted the ballot for the first time this year would qualify for voting in numbers equal to men, but it should be true of the future that women take an increasing interest in the affairs of government, for they and their children are the ones most directly affected by incompetence in the discharge of the duties of public office.

OBREGON'S PROBLEM

CONDITIONS IN SOUTHERN REPUBLIC MORE HOPEFUL, ALL AWAIT RECOGNITION BY U. S.

By RALPH H. TURNER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12. (By Mail) Mexico is brightening up. It may be said, by the same token, that Mexico also is "picking up," both socially and commercially. The old-timers, both Mexicans and foreigners, who have seen ten years of revolution, hesitate to venture a guess when asked how long this condition will continue, but they do not deny that Mexico today is more wide-awake, more cheerful and looks to the future with more confidence than at any time in the past eight or ten years.

It is five months now since Venustiano Carranza fled from his capital and passed into the limbo of "late, lamented" Mexican presidents. It is four months since Adolfo de la Huerta, his successor, took the oath of office. And in a little over a month, Alvaro Obregon, president-elect, will assume the chair, which, if Obregon is a strong enough man, he may occupy for four years. So it may be opportune to take stock of Mexico today.

It should be said, in justice to de la Huerta, that a provisional government of only six months' duration is confronted with administration difficulties which cannot be eliminated in such a brief period of time. These difficulties will be Obregon's heritage. It is up to Obregon to rescue Mexico. If Obregon fails—but that is peering into the future. This is a story of the present.

The improved conditions throughout the Republic are reflected particularly in Mexico City. It is not so much any great tangible achievement that appears reassuring, for such vital reconstruction problems as the railroad situation, finances, etc., still remain to be solved, but it is the spirit of optimism, the belief that a better day has arrived, that impress one now in moving about the capital. The people seem better dressed and of a lighter frame of mind. They seem to have more money to spend. Business is improving. The town is cleaner. The depression of many years' duration is beginning to lift. Mexico City presents the bustling appearance of a metropolis going to work. Motor cars so throng the streets that the traffic problem is the most critical in history. The hotels are full, either with Mexicans who have returned from abroad, or with foreigners, principally Americans, who have come back to seek business opportunities.

The beggars, it is true, are still with us. In fact, they seem to have increased, perceiving that their field is more profitable with the dawn of prosperity. They range from the small children, who, since the increased American influx have increased their income by learning to say, "Hello, meester, please gimme 5 cents," to the old men and women in rags who extend their palms with supplications "a Dios." There is one, singularly successful, who waits until the traffic cop's "stop" sign has halted the long stream of automobiles on the main thoroughfare. Then he passes from car to car, collecting from all occupants who are touched by his appeal. The government has made no attempt to eliminate the beggar annoyance.

The most signal achievement of the provisional government, as President de la Huerta remarked recently to foreign correspondents, is the pacification of the country. It is the feeling of safety from bandit and rebel bands that forms the basis of the newborn confidence. But reconstruction has been started in many lines, such as the paving of streets, the reduction of the army and the reorganization of the customs service along the border. Orders already have been placed for new railway material, including locomotives and freight cars, though the national treasury does not permit all of the necessary expenditures along this channel.

Construction men declare that more building is being done today than at any time in the past six years. One builder considered his work so urgent that he ordered a large supply of cement from the United States to be divided into small packages and sent by parcels post, not wishing to wait on the slow freight service. Business between Mexico and the United States is on the upgrade, the American Chamber of Commerce estimating that the trade of the two countries will reach a value of $320,000,000 for 1920.

As regards the bigger problems, it appears now that most of them will be left for the attention of Obregon, who will be able to build for the future with more certainty than de la Huerta. It is expected, too, that Obregon will surround himself with almost a wholly new cabinet, which tends to slow up the plans of some government departments. Obregon's task will include the upbuilding of the railroads, the settlement of the oil controversy, the meeting of claims for losses suffered by foreign nationals, an arrangement to begin payment on the national debt and the reorganization of internal finances. It is a herculean task that confronts Obregon, but he will have a peaceful, increasingly hopeful nation to deal with, thus giving the situation a vastly brighter tone than it possessed six months ago.

What Mexico wants—wants above everything else—is the recognition of her government by the United States. The question of recognition revolves in a circle. It amounts to this: The Mexican government recognizes that the United States—and Britain and France as well—will demand the fulfillment of certain obligations on Mexico's part.

"All right," Mexico says, "assuming the justice of these demands, we're eager to settle accounts as soon as possible."

Then Mexico proceeds to busy herself in cleaning house. But she soon discovers that whether the immediate problem be the revival of the country's banking system, the reorganization of the railroads, the payment of interest on her foreign debt, or half a dozen other matters, she doesn't possess the wherewithal to "put it over." She needs the moral and financial support of the outside world.

But the outside world, represented principally by the United States, hasn't recognized the Mexican government and assistance is not yet forthcoming.

Must Mexico do certain things, before she is recognized? Or must Mexico be recognized, before she can do these things? It's the old hen-and-the-egg proposition. And there you are!

Bolshevism Crumbling?

Even the most casual reader of the reports that have been coming out of Russia for several months must feel that the soviet, or bolshevist, government is gradually losing its grip on the people of Russia. Whether it can recover from its present condition of weakness remains to be seen.

There is hardly any doubt that the Russian government entered into peace arrangements with Poland as much because of conditions at home as the defeat of the Russian armies by the Poles. Russia has practically unlimited man power, and if the people were in sympathy with the war there would be plenty of men to do the fighting.

Nearly every person who has been permitted to study the situation in Russia at first hand, except the radical adherents of bolshevism, agree that economic conditions in Russia are deplorable, that the masses in the cities are in great want, and that the morale of the people has fallen to a menacing depth.

It does not yet appear that Lenin and Trotzky and other representa-
